

This overview demonstrates the overall impact that Love146 had in the field for the 2009-2010 fiscal year. It is important for us to be transparent, clearly representing our own programs and demonstrating how we have been able to come along-side partner organizations to greater benefit children. The managers of each project were asked a series of questions developed by the Love146 programs directors and myself. Our approach to the prevention of child sex slavery and exploitation and the restoration of survivors is holistic in nature, ensuring qualitative as well as quantitative results. This is reflected in the nature of the questions within the Impact Overview. These questions highlight the projects impact in three key areas: Restored and Empowered Children, Thriving Projects and Partnerships, and Empowered Communities. The following report demonstrates that in the 2009-2010 fiscal year Love146 had a meaningful impact on individual children, communities and partner organizations.

Asia Aftercare

Love146 Director of Aftercare, Dr. Gundelina Velazco

Love146 Round Home

The Love146 Round Home is uniquely built and designed to facilitate the restoration and holistic health of every child entering its doors. The approach to running the home is attuned to the needs of the exploited and traumatized child, which include both the needs of ordinary children as well as children who have been wounded in many ways; lack hope, are broken, lack opportunities and self-worth. It is a place where lives are restored and broken children can just simply be children again.

Highlights- 24 children have been directly impacted since the inception of this program. This year 10 of the 24 children were directly impacted. Four significant milestones were achieved with the involvement of Love146; 9 girls were reintegrated with their families and supported with livelihood, 2 girls began college (one pursuing Nursing, the other Hotels and Restaurants Management), the pioneering an intensive reintegration program and the completion of two phases of reintegration research. There were 75 community members who were involved in the project this year, including local officials who have been involved in various ways. Significant transformation in the community was demonstrated by a newfound commitment of the mayor to the issue of commercially exploited children and his desire to do something about it.

Recommendations- It is our recommendation to continue investing in the Love146 Round Home.

See Appendix 1 for the complete Impact Overview Form.

Love146 CTPA

Trained caregivers are essential in the restoration of exploited children. Love146 runs a one-week intensive training for grassroots caregivers already working with rescued children. The CTPA seeks to empower caregivers with the knowledge and skills that will enable them to provide children with specialized care in the restoration of survivors. The program provides a certified qualification through an on-site training course and post course evaluation.

Highlights- Since Love146 began CTPA trainings 2,500 children have been indirectly impacted. This year 300 of the 2,500 children were indirectly impacted. Significant transformation in an individual child's life has been demonstrated in the below narrative from Dr. Velazco:

“During the CTPA in Chiangrai in 2007 for House of Refuge workers, the trainees unanimously expressed difficulty over one child in their safehome. They narrated in detail the numerous maladaptive behaviors of this child. The appropriate interventions for this child were then discussed during the training, in reference to the principles that were being taught in the CTPA. Four months after the training, we came back to meet with the same trainees to evaluate their learning from the training. This time, they unanimously declared that when they implemented the interventions that they learned in the CTPA for this child, her behavior started to improve until she became one of the most well-behaved girls in the safehome.” -Love146 Director of Aftercare, Dr. Gundelina Velazco

Recommendations- It is our recommendation to continue investing in the Love146 CTPA and move forward with a mentorship model of replicating CTPA trainers, which will be piloted this fall.

Asia Prevention

Love146 Director of Asia Prevention, Glenn Miles PhD

Cambodia: Anti-Trafficking Coalition

Love146 partners with Chab Dai Cambodia on the Anti-Trafficking Coalition project. The Cambodia Anti-Trafficking Coalition is committed to addressing issues of abuse and exploitation by working together and providing opportunities for learning, while enabling, strengthening, and supporting each other. The coalition works with over 40 organizations and safehomes in Cambodia to provide training, education and practical opportunities that combat child sex slavery and exploitation. Our work with Chab Dai is our longest on-going prevention partnership.

Highlights- Love146 has partnered with Chab Dai since 2005. Over the past five years 1,558 staff from coalition member organizations have been trained. This year, 558 staff from coalition member organizations were trained in various subjects such as Child discipline, Counseling, Family Values, Foster Care, Child safety and management. This year 56 case referrals were received from communities through the Help Cards project.

Recommendations- It is our recommendation that Love146 continue investing in the Chab Dai Coalition.

See Appendix 3 for the complete Impact Overview Form.

South East Asia: Anti-Trafficking Network

Love146 partners with World Concern Asia on the Anti-Trafficking Network. The South East Asia: Anti-Trafficking Network includes two networks, one in Thailand and one Myanmar. The Thailand network consists of 92 member organizations addressing a range of issues affecting vulnerable children and women in Thailand, especially human trafficking and sexual exploitation. The Myanmar network was piloted in the 2009-2010 fiscal year.

Highlights- From May-June 2010 in Thailand; 70 Lisu hill tribe children & youth (between the ages of 9-16 years) participated in a Child Abuse Prevention Camp, 50 children attended a child abuse prevention training, and 83 children (between the ages of 4-18 years) participated in a Child Exploitation Prevention campaign. It is estimated that approximately 5,000 children are indirectly impacted by the project and 690 community members are involved in the project. The below narrative is evidence of significant transformation in an individual child's life as a result of Love146's involvement in this project:

"Nong Ae (not her real name) is a ten year old girl, who lives with her Thai foster father and her 35 year old uncle. Her mother is Burmese and works as a janitress in a hospital. Her mother used to be a sex worker. One of her friends is Wilbert Willis Holley, a 72-year old former American soldier. Her mother would take her to the guesthouse where Holley stayed. Holley said that he loved Nong Ae as his own daughter and showered her with gifts—bicycle, cell phone, laptop, and even paid for her school fees. Nong Ae began trusting him, even bringing her friends to his guesthouse. Shortly after, he started sexually molesting her, paying her mother an average of 1,500 in return. When Nong Ae refused to go to his guesthouse, her mother would beat her up so she would oblige.

On May 29, 2010, Nong Ae participated in the Child Abuse Prevention training that Garden of Hope staff facilitated. There she realized that she was a victim and decided to call the government hotline two weeks later. The police, together with an adviser and with the assistance of the guest house owner, were able to apprehend Holley on June 18, 2010. This arrest was broadcast in national television and print media.

Nong Ae is currently receiving support from the Provincial Social Development Welfare. Her case is in the process of being reviewed." -World Concern Asia Director of Programs and Grants, Ana Maria Clamor

Recommendations- It is our recommendation that Love146 continue investing in World Concern Asia.

See Appendix 4 for the complete Impact Overview Form.

South Asia: Anti-Trafficking Network

Love146 partners with Viva UK on the Anti-Trafficking Network. The South Asia Anti-Trafficking Network is the emerging regional network focused on preventing and responding to the vast issues surrounding the trafficking and exploitation of children in India, Sri Lanka and Nepal. A successful approach to child sexual abuse and child trafficking is built on the ability to do joint thinking and working together in order to provide effective prevention and aftercare. Viva UK has the expertise and tools to manage this network, help people work together and contribute towards a systematic approach to the abolition of child sexual abuse and exploitation.

Highlights- 29,354 children were indirectly impacted by the Nepal network and 3,700 children were indirectly impacted by the Sri Lanka Network. We do not have any data on the number of children indirectly impacted by the India network. In India, 27 teachers, social workers, and caregivers attended the CTPA. The below narrative is evidence of significant transformation in children's lives as a result of Love146's involvement in this project:

"Nepal: 59 awareness campaigns have been conducted in the different villages of Jhapa, Morong, Parsa, Mahottari, Rupandehi, Kapilvastu, Banke, Kailali, Kanchhanpur and Nuwakot districts over the past year. As a result, 51 children were rescued from the risk of trafficking and they could be placed in the transit shelters in Biratnagar, Birgunj and Butwal. Some of them were rescued from Nepal-India border areas. While 22 children have been reunited with their families and others whose families were not identified were placed in group homes/children homes, 30 families (including the families whose children were reunited) were directly benefitted by the Micro Credit "Business Skills Upgrading Training" which was implemented in collaboration with Envision Business Solution Pvt. Ltd. Carnet Nepal recommends the needs and Envision provides the training and provides the seed loans." -Viva UK Asia Network Consultant and NTC Coordinator, Binia Nightingale

Recommendations- It is our recommendation that Love146 continue investing in Viva UK.

India: Boy's Integration and Research Project

Love146 partners with Samabhavana Society on the Boy's Integration and Research Project. The India: Boy's Integration and Research Project seeks to understand issues of violence and exploitation of boys in the masseur industry through intervention, mentorship, education, skills training, and job placement. After the initial assessment, a series of awareness and orientation workshops were conducted. The boy's are encouraged through counseling and mentoring to volunteer and opt for enrolment in the program. They are given the choice to select the vocational course they would like to participate in based on their aptitude test. Upon the completion of the training, the boy's are offered job placement or micro-finance loans. A report chronicling the boy's reintegration will accompany the training and job placement. This research will be used to determine best practices for the reintegration of boy's in India.

Highlights- 52 children have been directly impacted and 153 indirectly impacted by the India: Boy's Integration and Research Project this year. 1,551 children have been indirectly impacted by this project since Love146 became involved. Currently 153 children are being supported in the reintegration process. The below narrative is evidence of a significant milestone that Samabhavana Society has been able to accomplish as a result of Love146's involvement:

"The most important milestone was that we have been to give children and youth in massage trade (sex work) an option to be sustainable with respect and dignity. The boys today have a choice of getting out of this trade, which earlier was non existent and the ongoing support being provided is working on getting this project to be sustainable beyond the project funding period. The best thing is that we are able to provide the support once again through the support being provided by Love146 and was not just a one time support, which also proves to this community that we are very serious in the process of alternate vocational generation by way of skills."
-Samabhavana Society Secretary & Executive Officer, Jasmir Thakur

Recommendations- It is our recommendation that Love146 continue investing in Samabhavana Society.

See Appendix 6 for the complete Impact Overview Form.

Cambodia: Border Prevention

Love146 partners with Kone Kmeng on the Border Prevention Project. This project seeks to intervene in the lives of children living in at risk communities along the Thai/Cambodia border through churches actively addressing needs in their community. Various programs will strengthen the capacity of these churches to effectively prevent trafficking and exploitation of children in their community. These programs include training community and church leaders, supporting education and skill building for children, family development, and community development and education.

Highlights- From Jan to June 2010 1,568 children have been recorded to benefit directly from all Kone Kmeng projects. 398 children are currently being supported in the reintegration process and continue to receive Kone Kmeng support through supplemental programs. Approximately 620 people, including children, local authorities, and school teachers have been trained on human trafficking and children's rights. The below narrative is evidence that this project benefits children and the community beyond direct involvement:

"An old lady in Banteay Meanchey province, took care of 6 grandchildren. Their parents left to work in Thailand but they couldn't send the money home. The grandmother had to make income in order to raise her grandchildren. Everyday, the children didn't attend the school at all. The oldest grandson, 12 years helped the grandmother selling Khmer noodle in the village. The others had to take care of the younger ones. In 2008, Save the Children Project expanded family development plan. The grandmother was received a capital loan to start a grocery shop at home. Three of her grandchildren were engaged in the non formal education program. Her business has run well. She asked her children to come back to the home village to help her business and plant vegetable. Now, they can pay off their loan to the private finance institute. The children are able to stay in school." –Kone Kmeng Director, Pang Sophany

Recommendations- It is our recommendation that Love146 continue investing in Kone Kmeng.

See Appendix 7 for the complete Impact Overview Form.

Cambodia: Border Officers

Love146 partners with the Cambodia Hope Organization and Big C Network on the Border Officers Project. By strengthening its collaboration with government border guards and coordination of intervention, the Cambodia: Border Officers project seeks to have significant impact in combating human trafficking and commercial exploitation of children. The Cambodia Border Officers Project works with the local authorities, relevant government institutions, and authorities at the border to protect the rights and to improve the quality of life of vulnerable women and children in need of special protection on the Poipet border.

Highlights- This year, 2 children were reintegrated to their community, 6 children were referred to shelters, there were 793 child interventions and 6 rescues. There were 1,299 community members involved in the Cambodia: Border Officers project. This includes: government staff, NGOs, community people and children. The below narrative is evidence that significant transformation within a community took place as a result of Love146's involvement in the project:

"Through Love 146 supported, BIG-C has provided some school materials and food to poorest children in BIG-C target areas in 10 villages, Poipet city. And provide cloths, food and transportation to serious children before reintegration to other shelter. In these period BIG-C have reintegration 4 cases to HAGAR, CHO and Domnok Toeuk." –Project of Return and Reintegration of Trafficked and Other Vulnerable and Children and Woman Director, Chhea Manith

Recommendations- It is our recommendation that Love146 continue to invest in Cambodian Hope Organization and Big C Network.

See Appendix 8 for the complete Impact Overview Form.

US Prevention

Love146 Director of US Prevention, Lamont Hiebert and US Advocacy Advisor, Kathy Maskell

US Advocacy

Our U.S. Advocacy initiatives range from organizing and participating in national conferences, engaging and collaborating with existing anti-trafficking councils and legislative taskforces, and initiating specific action points to address both the demand and effects of CSEC in the United States. Love146 has developed a strategy that focuses on advocacy to prevent child sex trafficking and exploitation. We seek to advocate on behalf of as well as with victims, survivors, and those at-risk of CSEC. Through detailed research and collaboration, Love146 contributes to the modern-day abolitionist movement in the US by emphasizing coalition building and partnerships as well as innovative, creative advocacy strategies.

Highlights- This year approximately 75-100 people were impacted by the grant Love146 gave to the Dreamcatcher Foundation in Chicago IL. In addition, Love146 provided a grant to “Tell Your Friends” which served approximately 500 young people. This year Love146 participated in the 250 member Asha Forum conference. The below narrative is evidence of significant transformation in the life of a child as a result of Love146’s involvement:

“Our partnership with FAIR Fund in 2009-2010 has helped to assist about 20 young people by connecting them to FAIR Fund’s partner agencies that provide medical care, mental health services, and shelter. There was one young lady (over 18) who told the FAIR Fund staff that she was raped at the age of 11 by her cousin’s boyfriend. She tried to seek help in the past, but no one believed her. They have spoken with a counselor at DC Rape Crisis Center, and the young lady planned to start counseling.” –Kathy Maskell, Love146 US Advocacy Advisor

Recommendations- It is our recommendation that Love146 continue to invest in US Advocacy.

See Appendix 9 for the complete Impact Overview Form.

Europe Prevention

Love146 Europe Director, Gaz Kishere

Love146 Cross Border Initiative, Moldova

Love146 partners with Beginning of Life Foundation in Moldova on the Cross Border Initiative. The goals of Beginning of Life Foundation are to prevent social problems between vulnerable groups of people and to rehabilitate victims of social injustice. This project seeks to address the factors contributing to the vulnerability of young people in Eastern Europe through a glossy pop culture magazine called Escape Magazine. In order to effectively impact the community 60% of each edition will be popular culture articles you would expect to find in western youth magazines and 40% of the articles will cover life and personal development issue, particularly issues which underpin why Eastern Europeans are vulnerable to trafficking.

Highlights- The escape prevention magazine had 5 editions this fiscal year with a print run of between 3 and 4 thousand each edition. It is estimated that do to the “pass around” nature of the magazine, that a conservative figure of 40,000 youth will have read the magazine. The below narrative is evidence of a significant milestone in the first year for the Escape Magazine:

“The magazine has been applauded by NGO’s and Government organizations not only for its prevention content but also as a valuable education and cultural development tool. The Education Authority have taken the magazine for its summer camps for at risk youth and plan to give the magazine its seal of approval enabling us to enter any school in the country. The tool has also been adopted by many teachers for lesson content on issues that have not know how address, which has prompted a desire for a teachers lesson outline magazine and also a similar tool for parents and impacting communities.” –Gaz Kishere, Love146 Europe Prevention Director

Recommendations- It is our recommendation that Love146 continue to invest in Beginning of Life Foundation.

| What are milestones/accomplishments that this project was able to achieve this year with the involvement of Love146? | Chab Dai has the same activities as last year, but the numbers are growing. 2,446 resources (new Vietnamese library), 884 member staff trained in 45 trainings, 600 visitors, 28 forums.  |
| With the involvement of Love146, how has this project improved its child protection efforts this year?               | Chab Dai updated their own child Protection Policy and shared it with members. The Child Protection Forum has been meeting regularly and hosted 4 Child Protection trainings in English and Khmer.  |
| How has this project improved its advocacy efforts as a result of Love146 involvement?                               | Chab Dai continues to require child protection policy for new members this year. They work with police and advocate with the government. This year Chab Dai was asked to represent the social service sector of the Prevention Working Group on the National Committee, High Level Working Group.                           |
| From 1-10 (10 being the strongest) how would you classify the strength of this projects leadership?                  | 9 because of good management by the Senior Management Team (SMT) that meets regularly. They have spiritual retreats, staff planning and training regularly. They have an internal staff policy that ensures good communication and accountability to each other. They also have a steering committee that oversees the SMT. |

| Please list at least one example that is evidence that this project benefits the community beyond direct involvement.   |
| They had a training about legal systems and support at the member meeting in May, 2010. The staff that were trained can now help community members with legal support. Another example is the last Family Forum, where they shared resources and curriculum for child development and parenting. Now members are more connected to the ideas/ trainings already available, and one organization will be using a curriculum to teach parents in their project about the needs of children, rights of children, how to be a good parent, etc. starting next month. |
| Please list at least one example that is evidence of significant transformation in a community served by this project as a result of Love146's involvement.   |
| They have been able to give technical support to members who work with children at risk and refer cases to Chab Dai through the Learning Community membership.   |

| Number of children directly impacted annually before the involvement of Love146? This includes, but is not limited to education, training, therapy and residential care.   |
| At present, the San Jai Network has no accurate data on the number of children directly impacted by the work of its members. However, the estimated number is 5,000 children.   |
| Number of children directly impacted this year? This includes, but is not limited to general education, education about trafficking, vocational training, therapy and residential care.  |
| During the period of May to June 2010: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• 70 Lisu hill tribe children &amp; youth (between the ages of 9-16 years) participated in a Child Abuse Prevention Camp.</li> <li>• 50 children living in the shelter of ZOE International attended a child abuse prevention training.</li> <li>• 83 children (between the ages of 4-18 years) participated in a Child Exploitation Prevention campaign.</li> </ul> The children who attended the child abuse prevention training learned how to protect themselves and other children in the community from abuse and how to avoid risky situations. They were also informed of phone hotlines, run by both the government and NGO's, in case they need help. One child in Chiangmai province who attended the training realized that she was being abused and called up the hotline to seek assistance.   |

| Nong Ae (not her real name) is a ten year old girl, who lives with her Thai foster father and her 35 year old uncle. Her mother is Burmese and works as a janitress in a hospital. Her mother used to be a sex worker. One of her friends is Wilbert Willis Holley, a 72-year old former American soldier. Her mother would take her to the guesthouse where Holley stayed. Holley said that he loved Nong Ae as his own daughter and showered her with gifts—bicycle, cell phone, laptop, and even paid for her school fees. Nong Ae began trusting him, even bringing her friends to his guesthouse. Shortly after, he started sexually molesting her, paying her mother an average of 1,500 in return. When Nong Ae refused to go to his guesthouse, her mother would beat her up so she would oblige. On May 29, 2010, Nong Ae participated in the Child Abuse Prevention training that Garden of Hope staff facilitated. There she realized that she was a victim and decided to call the government hotline two weeks later. The police, together with an adviser and with the assistance of the guest house owner, were able to apprehend Holley on June 18, 2010. This arrest was broadcast in national television and print media. Nong Ae is currently receiving support from the Provincial Social Development Welfare. Her case is in the process of being reviewed. |

| How has sustainability improved this year as a result of Love146 involvement?   |
| The sustainability of the San Jai Network is still a work in progress.   |
| What has the organization done to better understand the challenges and views of children this year?   |
| The San Jai Network conducted the Celebrating Children Course, which equipped the participants with the skills and knowledge on how to work more effectively with children living in difficult circumstances of loss, trauma, and abuse.   |
| How has the organization included the voices of children in development of projects and decision-making this year?  |
| The perspectives of children are included in the decision making from the feedback of member organizations that work directly with children. Seven of the nine members of the San Jai Steering Committee work directly with children.  |

| How has investment/buy-in improved this year as a result of Love146 involvement?   |
| The presence of a fulltime Coordinator San Jai has facilitated the engagement of more members in network activities. The various network trainings, meetings, and forums have equipped them with knowledge and skills o promote children’s rights and child protection in their target communities.   |
| Please list at least one example that is evidence that this project benefits the community beyond direct involvement.  |
| One San Jai member based in Chiangmai Province – The Garden of Hope Foundation – carried out a number of awareness raising trainings and campaigns to prevent child abuse in the communities and strengthened their relationship with the community people. They also promoted children’s rights and the process of reporting child abuse through the community radio. As a result: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The communities of Loi Khroa, Kamphaengdin and Thaphae have a deeper awareness of child abuse and know some preventive measures that can be applied in the community, forging better relationships among them.</li> <li>• Children learned about their rights, child protection and the reporting process and encouraged their friends to join the activities. They also met new friends in their community.</li> <li>• Community leaders were very supportive of all the activities. They were quite keen to learn about children’s rights and how to rescue abused children in their community.</li> </ul> |

As a result, 51 children were rescued from the risk of trafficking and they could be placed in the transit shelters in Biratnagar, Birgunj and Butwal. Some of them were rescued from Nepal-India border areas. While 22 children have been reunited with their families and others whose families were not identified were placed in group homes/children homes, 30 families (including the families whose children were reunited) were directly benefitted by the Micro Credit "Business Skills Upgrading Training" which was implemented in collaboration with Envision Business Solution Pvt. Ltd. Carnet Nepal recommends the needs and Envision provides the training and provides the seed loans. |

| Nepal: Churches used to shut their doors on integral mission but after the successful implementation of the Daughter Project, initiated by Carnet Nepal, one of the supported networks in Asia, they are realizing and understanding their responsibility to care and support the vulnerable children in their society.   |
| To this day, 145 churches are involved and engaged in responding to child sexual abuse and child trafficking  |

using the Daughter Toolkit (this consists of flip-charts and a video made by Stairway Foundation, Inc. using the story 'Daughter'. A phone card with contact details where to get help is handed out alongside the actual story being told). Churches have been trained and raise awareness among communities where children are at risk of Child Sexual Abuse (CSA) and Child Trafficking (CT) in remote parts of Nepal. The support of Love146 over the past six months has contributed towards children being better protected and where necessary assisted in the process of lives being changed for the better either by rescuing them or by reconciling them to families.

Niru Dhakal* is 13 years old. She grew up in Rudrapur VCF Rupandehi together with her parents, grandparents, uncles and their families. Her father never cared for the family, was often drunk or would disappear for days. Nobody knew where he was in those times. When he was at home, he would beat his wife until she was unconscious. The extended family struggled and could hardly take care of the children but worse, the rest of the family didn't speak up for Niru and her mother. Instead they blamed her for ruining the family and distorting Niru's father. Due to the consistent physical and mental torture Niru's mother was exposed to, she decided to marry another man leaving Niru with her grandparents while she build a new life in Majhuwa Gaon Kapilvastu.

With this family separation, Niru faced more complications in her life. Her involvement in domestic work increased and by the time she was 12 years old her uncle started to sexually abuse her. Nobody was there to hear her voice and she never knew how to get help or report it somewhere. She fled from the home of her grandparents and moved to her mother. However, her stepfather didn't want her to stay.

Niru never experienced what a caring father is though she found a place to share about her suffering at the Daughter awareness campaign on 2nd Asar 2067 held in Padampur VDC Kapilvastu where people shared in her pain. Tears rolled down Niru's eyes and could hardly utter the words. The whole attendees of the Daughter Awareness campaign on 2nd Asar 2067 held in Padampur VDC Kapilvastu were subdued with this suffering.

From this difficult condition, Niru was rescued by the Kapilvastu Team (Ps Surya Giri) and rehabilitated in Butwal Transit Shelter. She feels safe and secure with friends in the shelter. Currently, schooling options are being explored with her.

The 'Daughter Project' is a holistic approach to girl child trafficking from high-risk Nepali communities to Indian Brothels. The project considers the need for awareness, education, economic development, rescue intervention, and long-term care.

Thriving Projects and Partnerships

What are milestones/accomplishments that this project was able to achieve this year with the involvement of Love146?

Overall the milestones can be summarized as follows:

Systematic approach to helping an approach in collaboration building / better sharing of cross-learning Links to complementary or similar work and exposure to different models (which to some extent are less reliant on financial resources but more participatory).

Nepal: More flexibility to respond to local developments on the awareness raising campaigns across different locations in districts.

India: Momentum on the trafficking issues across India with the Asha Forum enabled to have meetings in different regions and considering issues than can and should be tackled nationally.

Different regional consultations on child sexual exploitation enabled the profile to be raised, issues to be highlighted and understanding deepened as well as networking on practical issues. This lead to the formation of local Asha Forums and a National Core Group looking into strategic issues which included the agreement of key areas such as education, church engagement and the development of human resources. The following consultations were held:

- South India regional consultation on child sexual exploitation was held where about 90 delegates attended. Asha Forum Bangalore has been formed as a result of the consultation.
- The 1st Asha Forum meeting was held in Bangalore. This includes 13 decision makers from NGOs working on child sexual exploitation in Bangalore. A directory of Christian NGO'S in Bangalore who are working on child sexual abuse is being prepared along with prayer booklet on child sexual abuse and a child rights sensitization workshops.
- East & Northeast regional consultation on child sexual exploitation was held in Kolkota. 35 delegates participated from different parts of east India.
- For the 1st time the major Christian stakeholders in the area of addressing child sexual exploitation/abuse came together as National Asha Forum in India to discuss and plan collaborative ways to plug in the gaps identified in some of the regional consultations especially regarding the lack of human resources in this area. Five action plans have come out of this consultation engaging these stakeholders at local level in the areas of legal, aftercare, anti-trafficking, use of media and church role (Detailed report attached). Presently the forum is looking for major funds for this plans to start. A National core team was nominated to look into this aspect.
- The Bangalore chapter core team met to discuss and plan for the implementation of the prevention program in schools. The discussion included identifying roles and responsibilities, schools to be approached, concept note for the principals and developing a biblical mandate for child care by the forum.

Sri Lanka: Network development

A network that had begun to develop two years ago, though it was supported by Love 146 only in its second year.

- Valuable input on effective partnerships is strengthening the initiative.
- Awareness on the different aspects of trafficking has increased.
- Committed partners are now emerging.
- Directory is in the process of being compiled.
- Close attention and monitoring is being done by the Vive Network representative who helps the network to become more focused.

With the involvement of Love146, how has this project improved its child protection efforts this year?

Nepal: A Children Protection Policy (CPP) is an effective tool that articulates zero tolerance to child abuse and exploitation. Carnet Nepal has drafted its CPP and effectively implemented it to its concerned personnel. So Carnet Nepal has made an effort to raise awareness about the importance and need of a CPP for different organizations and churches involved in the network. Initially it was felt that their children are well protected in their organizations and churches as many of the organizations and churches had never heard about it. They were challenged and convinced that they should have a CPP to protect their children, staff and of course the organization or the church. It was a great opportunity for Carnet Nepal to train and facilitate the draft of a CPP for them. Seven different ministries have drafted their CCP as a result of it. This includes 2 local networks who in turn are working with local churches and ministries. The effective implementation of these CPP is yet to be ensured. Carnet Nepal is in contact with each of them and is monitoring the implementation process.

India: This program has impacted many grassroots level workers and decision makers. To tell about one; one pastor being led by God, came to Kolkata from Kerala leaving his government service. With his own life experiences, he was burdened to help underprivileged children. So he started off a school for slum and street children in 1995, the organization is called 'Living Hope'. According to his knowledge, he was doing all that he can do to educate and empower these children. We happened to meet him at the venue during our preconference preparation time and we invited him for the consultation. He did come for the program, and was surprised to hear about child sexual abuse in institutions, families and schools. He was afraid for his own children and motivated by the sessions and the awareness he gained, enthusiastically attended our two-day workshop on child rights and protection policies. He takes care of 200 children and is a village head. Now he desires to talk about this issue to the other village heads and protect children under his care and other children in the village.

He expressed his gratitude to God and to the organizers - I believe that empowering grass root workers who are also in decision making process is equally important as that of main stakeholders.

Sri Lanka: Child Protection Policy: With the help of Love 146 the existing (CCS) guidelines of "Good practices" was stepped up to develop a Child Protection Policy for the organization. It is at the moment going through many checks and will be presented to the Board. Once approved and accepted, it would be rolled out to each of the projects. Initially it would be introduced to the Project Directors and their staff on the implementation of the policy. Training on the use of it would have to be part of its execution.

Due to the sharing of the (CPTA) training, several staff members commented that their minds were refreshed on the subject of child sexual abuse and trafficking. As a result, the following came out of it:

The Sewing Manager particularly shared what she learnt with her class of 6 little girls. Explaining that prevention was paramount and the importance of recognizing bad touch or adult behavior which is not appropriate.

The Principal in the Tiny Stars Montessori commented that the information was shared amongst approximately 40 parents. Warning against always depending and trusting uncles, elderly family members etc. who may not always have the best interests of the children at heart was to be considered.

The Manager/Health Educator of the Medical unit shared what she had learnt with one little girl in particular. She seems well developed for her age and shared that an uncle on the beach had invited her for a hug and would trade a kiss for a toffee. The little one was given special attention on prevention and she in turn told him that the aunties at (CCS) will be informed if anything she does not like took place.

The team who works with the children of the Feeding program said that special attention was being given to the kids during the school holidays (A total of 200 children). It has been noted that there is an increase in child sexual abuse during vacations. The team set about conducting special programs that would keep the children occupied by:

- Screening movies – Jesus and the Passion of Jesus – 100 children
- Musical morning – CCS Idol was selected – 98 children
- Vacation Bible School was conducted for 150 children

How has this project improved its advocacy efforts as a result of Love146 involvement?

Nepal: Speaking out on behalf of children being abused and trafficked has been at the core of the project for Nepal. Therefore the whole project is part of speaking out on behalf and with people/children who have been affected by the issue of abuse and trafficking.

Sri Lanka: the HT network is raising awareness about trafficking issues among the network participants attending the quarterly network meetings. Different topics have drawn a variety of people and organizations, both Christian and non-Christians from different sectors including the research sector, embassy related staff and the grass-roots level. As the partnership is evolving, we find more interaction between members. Linking one to another identifies strengths, skills and complements endeavors to form a strong network. This helps in being able to link relevant personnel who can help a trafficked victim with speed and confidence.

From 1-10 (10 being the strongest) how would you classify the strength of this projects leadership?

- Nepal: 8 (Leadership with vision, commitment and skills. A continued investment in building the capacity of the Coordination Team is paying off and is clearly contributing towards the success in enabling churches across different districts in Nepal to speak out against abuse and to raise awareness and link to practical responses to some of the related issues such as short-term counseling, potential access to education, etc).
- Sri Lanka: 3 (Leadership in the HT network is committed and passionate about the cause of anti-trafficking and realizing that people need to link to each other in order to bring about change. However, the facilitation skills for collaboration are currently missing and therefore the score is lower than expected. Facilitation skills and relationship building skills with a purpose understanding the results of collaboration needs to be added to the core team).

How has leadership improved this year as a result of Love146 involvement?

Nepal: this is too early to say after 6 months of involvement only. However, working with the field coordinator while being in India seems to suggest that the leadership has been improving since my last visit to Nepal. This includes skills and competence as well as the willingness to go beyond duty.

Sri Lanka: It has improved due to an increase in knowledge, expertise, influence and new partners

Overall, having different areas focusing on the issue of trafficking has given Viva a unique way to cross-learning which directly improves consultancy to the different networks; monitoring the progress of the different elements in the projects Love146 supports in India, Nepal and Sri Lanka has enabled a more systematic approach.

From 1-10 (10 being the strongest) how would you classify the efficiency of this project?

Anything between a 2 – 8, depending on the elements of efficiency and the level of response to trafficking.

In some areas, the response to the issue of trafficking and sexual abuse is solid and developing well with a good amount of detail. As a result we have got strong data on how many children have been impacted and how communities including churches are responding. Other areas need to develop further due to early stages of working and drawing together key stakeholders and issues related to leadership.

However, there is room for improvement in the following areas:
 Nepal: reporting deadlines
 India: integration between Asha chapters and local networks dealing with related issues such as the girl child or more general children at risk issues.
 Sri Lanka: there is a need to take the energy generated by the network meetings and channel it towards practical ways of joint action.

How has efficiency improved this year as a result of Love146 involvement?

Sri Lanka: The involvement of Love 146 has brought breath and height to the improvement of the network. Previously it was spearheaded by a single team from one organization. The meetings were woven around a subject which would build awareness. Now that there is more understand on the importance of collaboration, the network is now to be steered by a working team or core group, encouraging ownership of the partners. The DISCO workshop though not undertaken in the year under review has brought about a wealth of knowledge which will enhance the building and the life of the network. Achievements, failures, development and interaction are all shared and does not become a burden on one team.

From 1-10 (10 being the strongest) how would you classify the sustainability of this project?

5 – 7 (8)
 Sustainability overall is good with certain areas being weaker than others. This includes areas where funding is only being looked at one year ahead due to funders only inviting applications for one year at a time. This therefore tends to exclude some of the learning cycles that can be built into a project which has been planned ahead for the next 2 – 3 years. This can be seen clearly in the case of Nepal as the project has been planned out for several years and therefore tends to get better results in comparison to a fairly new network such as Sri Lanka who plans for the next few network meetings but doesn't yet have a strategic plan agreed by a core group.

How has sustainability improved this year as a result of Love146 involvement?

The sustainability has improved in all the different areas funded by Love146. This is mainly due to the fact that Love146 has chosen to partner with Viva using a collaborative approach to anti-trafficking. This offers a unique way of enabling grass-roots initiatives to develop and to become more sustainable long-term.

What has the organization done to better understand the challenges and views of children this year?

In Nepal, children are speaking up and sharing some of their own experiences at the awareness raising events in the different districts across the country.

How has the organization included the voices of children in development of projects and decision-making this year?

Sri Lanka: The children are always given education on their rights. They are empowered to voice their opinions and actions.
 Before programs are designed, most often the teams sit with the community and their input is encouraged before the proposal is fashioned. This has always been part of the process in formulating strategies and improving programs at (CCS). This same principal will be applicable to the building of the network.

Empowered Communities

How many villages/cities does this project impact?

The aim in Nepal is to engage and mobilize churches in Morong & Jhapa, Parsa, Rupandehi & Kapilvastu, Banke, Kailali & Kanchahanpur towards a united Christian response to raise awareness around child protection issues. Currently 145 churches in those districts have committed to raising awareness about the issue. Networks provide the support behind the learning and linking.
 India: This would become relevant once the program “Red Leaves Falling” is implemented.
 The only impact was on the teachers, caregivers and staff after the (CPTA) training where 27 attended the program.

| Number of community members trained by this project?  |
| In the past fiscal year 27 pastors and leaders of Jhapa and Nuwakot districts (Nepal) have become facilitators of Daughter Toolkit by attending the "Training of Trainers (ToT)".  |
| Otherwise, numbers have not monitored due to using alternative indicators (see page 1).  |
| Number of potential perpetrators are challenged and educated?   |

| Nepal: 6 months of funding are too short a period to say that significant transformation in a community has been made as a result of Love146's involvement. However, more long-term work which started before that indicates that a counter culture is starting to build with children/daughters being heard by pastors/community leaders. This includes an example where a pastor publicly asked for forgiveness for not listening to a 'daughter' who asked for help when she was abused.Sri Lanka: Refreshing the minds of the teachers and caregivers filters down to the children and community we serve in.Parents have taken a light view of leaving their children with adults who pose potential harm.As awareness is built among the partners the community will be impacted as the members share what they learn at the meetings. |

| Two specific such case studies and success stories are of S and K. S is 19 years old and comes from a Muslim background. He was one of the highest earners with average take home around Rs. 30,000. He has   | been in the trade for the last year and half. S was one of the first to recruit and also one of the boys who had undergone violence at the hands of a goon, who had resorted to violence and intimidation of the boys. S has been one of the most important transformers, as he single handedly dealt with huge amount of ostraciation from the community. S is a great learner and has constantly shown his persistence to learn and change, as he believed in the program and he believed in himself more. They are very proud to have had S as a role model for the community and today he is one of the best advocates for us and constantly keeps urging us to do more, a true inspirer for us and the boys. K, a 16 years old boy from a Hindu background, was new in the massage trade and was in the trade for only three months.

Thriving Projects and Partnerships

What are milestones/accomplishments that this project was able to achieve this year with the involvement of Love146?

The most important milestone was that they have been able to give children and youth in the massage trade (sex work) an option to be sustainable with respect and dignity. The boys today have a choice of getting out of this trade, which earlier was non-existent. The ongoing support being provided enables them to seek sustainable solutions beyond the project-funding period. They are able to provide support to the boys and their community.

With the involvement of Love146, how has this project improved its child protection efforts this year?

The efforts have vastly improved as the organization has developed intricate knowledge through various discussions with Dr Glenn Miles. This knowledge is being passed down the line to the team members, communities and other stakeholders associated with the organization. The exploratory study they conducted has also vastly improved the understanding of the scenario in South East Asia.

How has this project improved its advocacy efforts as a result of Love146 involvement?

The advocacy component in terms of Soft and Vocational skills has improved but Legal advocacy is still to be done and would also require a separate project support with more substantial funding support

From 1-10 (10 being the strongest) how would you classify the strength of this projects leadership?

The project leadership is definitely 10, as we feel that we have the requisite strengths and information what we lack most of the time is financial backing to implement the program

How has leadership improved this year as a result of Love146 involvement?

The leadership has improved vastly due to the constant interactions with Dr Glenn Miles as he has always kept us abreast with information and process support and understanding to deliver better and that has been the source of encouragement as we are constantly raising the bar

From 1-10 (10 being the strongest) how would you classify the efficiency of this project?

The project has in reality filled in the big gap that was existing for boys, wherein they have been able to provide Soft and Vocational skills. 10.

How has efficiency improved this year as a result of Love146 involvement?

The project was able to deliver to the boys; a way out of their exploitative situation and give them a new life. This new positive energy has had its direct impact on the excitement of the community as well as the organization to do real work, and this newly infused energy has direct correlation with efficiency.

From 1-10 (10 being the strongest) how would you classify the sustainability of this project?

They feel there is still a long way to go and today they would place the sustainability at 3, but in couple of years they would be able to achieve 10.

How has sustainability improved this year as a result of Love146 involvement?

The sustainability has improved as they are able to get new team members to do specific jobs and that takes away a bit of responsibility from the project director, who is then able to concentrate on avenues of generating process for sustainability.

What has the organization done to better understand the challenges and views of children this year?

A study was undertaken on the challenges and views in this work.

How has the organization included the voices of children in development of projects and decision-making this year?

The vocational skills process has been widened to include more courses and options

Empowered Communities

How many villages/cities does this project impact?

| The project impacts 36 villages in Mathura and community members in Mumbai, so overall they will be directly or indirectly impacting around 10,000 children and youth.  |
| Number of community members involved in this project?  |
| 1551 members were involved through process of workshops.  |
| Number of community members trained by this project?   |
| 52 have been trained and another 101 will be trained this year.   |
| Number of potential perpetrators are challenged and educated?  |
| There were 4 such perpetrators last year and they have been challenged and made to review their stand. They were goons who were stopping the children from attending the training program.  |
| From 1-10 (10 being the strongest) how would you classify the investment/buy-in of the community into this project?  |
| 5 as they are still to do process planning at the source – Mathura, until that happens the community buy in will be only 50% as they are only working at the destination- Mumbai  |
| How has investment/buy-in improved this year as a result of Love146 involvement?   |
| It has improved about 10% as they are having support for 2 team members to work in Mathura.   |
| Please list at least one example that is evidence that this project benefits the community beyond direct involvement.  |
| The change in attitude and the positive impact on the trained 52 members and also the enthusiasm of new members enrolling into the program. Today they seeking more funding so that they are able to get others interested in being a part of the program.  |
| Please list at least one example that is evidence of significant transformation in a community served by this project as a result of Love146's involvement.  |
| They have managed to convince a very higher up Police officer to be a part of the program and through her they are able to reach out to private education institutes to support training of boys free of cost, wherein they are training 21 boys for Network and Hardware training course through a Computer Institute. |

| An old lady in Banteay Meanchey province, took care of 6 grandchildren. Their parents left to work in Thailand but they couldn't send the money home. The grandmother had to make income in order to raise her grandchildren. Everyday, the children didn't attend the school at all. The oldest grandson, 12 years helped the grandmother selling Khmer noodle in the village. The others had to take care of the younger ones. In 2008, Save the Children Project expanded family development plan. The grandmother was received a capital loan to start a grocery shop at home. Three of her grandchildren were engaged in the non formal education program. Her business has run well. She asked her children to come back to the home village to help her business and plant vegetable. Now, they can pay off their loan to the private finance institute. The children are able to stay in school. |

| Dream Catchers – In 2009-2010, Love146 supported the “Bright Stars Prevention Program” of the Dreamcatcher Foundation in Chicago, IL. In the past 6 months, in continuation of their efforts to combat human trafficking , we are raising awareness and building support in the community. We have provided 2 organizations and 2 churches tools to increase the identification of children as victims of child-sex slavery. The estimated number of people who were impacted by these efforts is 75-100 people. Tell Your Friends – In 2009-2010, Love146 supported the “Tell Your Friends” program in Washington, D.C. In the past six months, they reached out to approximately 500 young people through Tell Your Friends to keep them and their families safe from human trafficking and sexual exploitation. Our staff also provided trainings on how to better identify and assist child victims of human trafficking to social service providers, foster parents, and law enforcement officers. Networks: Asha Forum Steering Committee and Conference- 250 students, pastors, anti-trafficking colleagues, professors, community activists, social workers, aftercare workers, came together to address innovative solutions to addressing, preventing, and caring for victims of child sexual exploitation in May 2009. As a steering committee member, Kathy worked to organize the second Asha Forum North America Consultation at Fuller Seminary. We began planning for the conference in September 2008, and the conference theme of going “beyond awareness” and ensured that every session focused on equipping delegates with practical resources to address demand, preventing trafficking, and caring for victims and survivors of trafficking. End Internet Trafficking Coalition- End Internet Trafficking Coalition In recognition of the continued exploitation of websites such as Craigslist as well as other internet sites, Love146 helped to form the End Internet Trafficking Coalition, which provides a platform to link nonprofit, governmental, law enforcement, faith-based, and student grassroots agencies and individuals to advocate an accessible worldwide web where children, youth, and adults are better protected from human trafficking in all its forms. We have uncovered numerous mail-order brides and sex tourism sites which have been linked to trafficking. Such sites do not respect country borders in whom to victimize: men, women, and children from Europe, Asia, North America, and South America have all been victimized and exploited through Internet-based trafficking. In this past quarter, new partners and allies include Linda Criddle of Look Both Ways, Samir Goswami of Chicago Alliance Against Sexual Exploitation (CASE), Norma Ramos of Coalition Against the Trafficking of Women, and Laura Lederer of Global Centurion. In summer 2009, Love146 signed onto an amicus brief in support of a lawsuit brought forth by a Chicago sheriff against Craigslist for promoting the prostitution and trafficking of children and women. In Fall/Winter 2009, Love146 has committed to assisting with a publication and DVD project as a follow-up to the UC Berkeley EITC conference by transcribing each session. Vineyard Anti-Slavery Team- Creating pastoral anti-trafficking toolkit, to live on the Vineyard USA website. In |

January 2009, Love146 hosted and facilitated a workgroup of pastors and lay leaders to create a human trafficking resource toolkit and strategy for the entire association of 500+ churches to effectively address human trafficking nationally and internationally. The toolkit will not only provide an approachable breakdown for pastors of key leading anti-trafficking organizations and their strongest resources but also specific pathways for youth pastors, worship leaders, and Vineyard missions partners. Human trafficking will be the first issue highlighted under the "Justice Response" section of the VineyardUSA.org website, and is scheduled to be launched on ML Day 2010.

Stop the Traffik, Active Communities Against Trafficking (ACT/s 1&2)

Began research for ACT/s 2 pilot and edited ACT/s 1 pack for US Launch for Summer 2009. Active Communities against Trafficking in the sex industry (ACT/s) Groups allow people of all ages, ethnicities and genders to understand sex trafficking, how it affects their local community and help them proactively respond to Stop The Traffik.

The ACT/s 1 pack is designed as a "first steps" tool for community-based groups, such as our Love146 taskforces. We plan to officially debut this resource in Fall 2010.

ACT/s 2 is a more intensive and rigorous community-policing resource to map establishments that could be potential portals for child sex trafficking. Initiating a collaborative relationship with the local police department is essential. In February, I met with the sergeant who heads up the Anti-Trafficking Unit for Connecticut. Love146 plans to pilot this resource in CT in Winter 2010.

Chab Dai USA Mapping Project

Love146 is a key stakeholder in Chab Dai USA's first major project - a mapping project focused on creating a database of all organizations working against human trafficking and sexual exploitation across the United States. In collaboration with several nationwide partners, this project will launch once funding has been secured.

How many organizations do YOU know that working against human trafficking and/or commercial sexual exploitation in the United States? Perhaps you know of several, perhaps you don't... Unfortunately, however, NO complete list or database of such organizations currently exists. With the way in which grassroots movements, local organizations, and advocates have continued to pop-up across North America and across the globe, new organizations and projects are constantly in the making - but many are not aware of one another, or even if they choose to network, it's difficult to find 'everyone' that's out there.

In summer of 2009, a Love146 compiled just over 100 pages of service provider information to begin the database.

New England Coalition Against Trafficking (NECAT)

In September 2009, Love146 joined NECAT. The goals of NECAT include (1) sharing information with other NECAT members and building members' capacity to understand complex issues in human trafficking, (2) increasing public outreach and education about human trafficking in New England, (3) increasing the identification of trafficking victims and better coordinate services to victims, and (4) increasing the number of providers in New England able to provide quality services to trafficking victims. The coalition will include NGOs throughout MA, NH, ME, CT, and RI. The first meeting was held in October 2009 and the next one is scheduled for October 2010.

Triple S(Stop Sex Slavery) Network

In August 2009, Love146 joined the Triple S Network. Initiated by Dr. Laura Lederer of Global Centurion and Steve Wagner, this is an informal network of abolitionist organizations, survivor-centered service providers, and others who share a goal of eliminating sex slavery in the United States and around the world. Through this network, Love146 will more effectively educate, advocate, and to the extent possible under our non-profit status lobby for grants, contracts, earmarks, and other later resources for which we individually would not qualify. In addition, we will be privy to specialized training and technical assistance on a variety of anti-trafficking issues, including victim services, rescue and restoration, demand, law and law enforcement issues, and more.

Platforms

Love146 Taskforces

Roughly 25 of our FCN partners have initiated volunteer Taskforces within their congregations. Exciting events this past quarter included the Long Island Taskforce Benefit Dinner, Boston Taskforce “Tread on Trafficking,” Blue Route Vineyard Taskforce Rummage Sale, and Celebration Church Taskforce Magic Show. Hundreds of students across the United States have also initiated Love146 Taskforces on their campuses. To nurture this growing network, Love146 will launch a “Love146 Community Site,” which will enable taskforce members to network with each other, share ideas and resources, communicate with Love146 staff, and track the growth of the network through an interactive map. In addition, Love146 will debut a 5-week Love146 Taskforce Curriculum to help initiate new taskforces in conjunction with the launch of the Community Site.

Number of children being supported in the reintegration process?

Please list at least one example that is evidence of significant transformation in a child’s life as a result of Love146’s involvement with this project. This can include, but is not limited to physical, emotional, social, and spiritual development.

Our partnership with FAIR Fund in 2009-2010 has helped to assist about 20 young people by connecting them to FAIR Fund’s partner agencies that provide medical care, mental health services, and shelter. There was one young lady (over 18) who told the FAIR Fund staff that she was raped at the age of 11 by her cousin’s boyfriend. She tried to seek help in the past, but no one believed her. They have spoken with a counselor at DC Rape Crisis Center, and the young lady planned to start counseling.

Thriving Projects and Partnerships

What are milestones/accomplishments that this project was able to achieve this year with the involvement of Love146?

Safe Harbor Law - Love146 led a successful grassroots campaign in CT to urge law makers to pass the “Safe Harbor” law which mandates that commercially sexually exploited minors can no longer be prosecuted for being victimized through commercial sexual exploitation. Although the law will not be implemented until October of 2010, the passage of this important piece of legislation allows the appropriate government and non-government agencies to prepare for it’s impact by setting adequate protocols and procedures into place.

Dream Catchers – Love146 provided a grant to a survivor-led organization in Chicago, IL. The organization used these funds to transport, feed and provide cell phone minutes to their staff and the at-risk and exploited children they serve.

Tell Your Friends – Love146 was able to provide grants to help a partner organization continue implementation of the “Tell Your Friends” program in D.C., which targets at-risk youth in D.C. area public schools.

With the involvement of Love146, how has this project improved its child protection efforts this year?

Safe Harbor – Domestic minor sex trafficking victims can no longer be re-victimized by law enforcement and the justice system in CT by treating them as criminals. Additionally, the passage of Safe Harbor in CT is a catalyst for other states to pass and implement similar measures.

Dream Catchers – Having the ability to communicate with their clients was crucial to their effectiveness in preventing initial victimization, and re-victimization, of domestic minor sex trafficking. Additionally, the transportation we funded for the children being served allowed for prevention education and mentoring appointments to be met.

Tell Your Friends – This groundbreaking curriculum designed by FAIRfund was instrumental in educating hundreds of at-risk youth and in identifying a minimum of 56 victims of domestic minor sex trafficking in American public schools. Once identified, these victims were offered support services and follow-up opportunities to better protect themselves.

Conferences
 February 2009
 EITC Conference at UC Berkeley. Global Disconnects: The Internet & Human Trafficking. As the Internet has become more and more a part of the everyday in the U.S. and the global north, questions have arisen: How has the internet used as a tool for violence, for the trafficking and sexual exploitation of people? How has it used as a tool for social change to counter violence? This summer, Love146 will assign an intern to work with EITC UC Berkeley conference transcription for video version as well as begin the process for a published volume of the papers given at the conference.

April 2009

1st Annual Love146 Advocacy Leadership Summit, co-hosted by Yale-UNICEF. Intern Allison Rodriguez worked to organize the first ever conference for our task force leaders, campus coalition directors, faith community network leaders, and staff members to gather together and inspire one another as we discussed our vision and purpose together. The conference included workshops led by staff members as well as keynote sessions led by Brains on Fire Word-of-Mouth Inspiration Officer Geno Church. Geno shared strategies on how to initiate word-of-mouth movements and viral campaigns. We had about 35 delegates in attendance, and immediate fruit included our Midwest Regional Campus Director creating a draft for an Abolitionist Toolkit.

Next National Advocacy Leadership Conference is scheduled for mid-2010. Love146 will plan this conference in conjunction with the International Institute of CT.

April 2009

Love146 Partner Trip, comprised of Love146 Taskforce leaders

May 2009

2nd Biannual Asha Forum North America Consultation: "Beyond Awareness: Empowering the Response." Over 140 students, pastors, leaders, and community advocates attended. Keynote speakers were Dr. Sharon Cooper, NCMEC; Beth Grant, Project Rescue; Rob Morris, Love146; Lisa Thompson, The Salvation Army. Glenn Miles spoke as a panelist during the breakout session, "Approaches to Rehabilitation and Aftercare," and led a working group: Publication Project: Tackling Common Questions. Asha Forum North America seeks to publish an edited volume that responds to some of the practical questions asked of practitioners, church leaders, and academics in the field overseas as well as domestically. We believe that tackling these questions would really help each other in our work.

Next conference is planned for May 2011.

May 2009

Vineyard National Leadership Conference. 1,400 Vineyard pastors and leaders. Launched VAST toolkit with a human trafficking workshop, which had over 80 people in attendance (standing room only).

How has this project improved its efforts as a result of Love146 involvement?

Safe Harbor - A year earlier, prior to the involvement of Love146, there was an unsuccessful attempt to pass the Safe Harbor legislation in CT. This time around the Love146 Advocacy Director led a statewide campaign that legislators could not ignore. Constituents from both sides of the political spectrum provided their representatives with overwhelming support for the bill through emails, phone calls and by attending special legislative sessions in support of Safe Harbor.

Dream Catchers - Previously, the staff had lost contact with girls it was serving due to communication and transportation needs. Our funding / partnership helped minimize that risk.

Tell Your Friends - Love146 entered into a new level of partnership with FAIR Fund that is allowing them to expand the "Tell Your Friends" curriculum outside of Washington, DC where the program was being offered.

How has leadership improved this year as a result of Love146 involvement?

Safe Harbor - The passage of Safe Harbor has helped raise the bar of expectations and accountability on government and non-government agencies in their responses to the victimization of children by sex traffickers and exploiters. New protocols and procedures have been created as a result.

Dream catchers - Too often, grassroots and survivor-led organizations receive little support. Being a supporting partner of Dream Catchers has encouraged their leadership to work with confidence.

Tell Your Friends - During the pilot phase of "Tell Your Friends" the leadership gained an incredible amount of

| experience and knowledge to better educate at-risk children. Moreover, the valuable lessons learned not only benefit the work of 1 organization; rather the knowledge and skills gained are being passed on to others in the field doing similar work. Supporting this kind of pioneer work by young leaders helps break new ground and multiplies the effectiveness in reaching at-risk and exploited children.  |

Appendix 10: Love146 Cross Border Initiative

| Restored and Empowered Children  |
| Number of children directly impacted annually before the involvement of Love146? This includes, but is not limited to education, training, therapy and residential care.  |
| Specific numbers are not possible. The partner Beginning of Life have been working in more than 40 secondary Schools and colleges in the capital of Moldova (Chisinau) and have recently begun work with 20 schools in the south and 20 in the north of the country.   |
| Number of children directly impacted this year? This includes, but is not limited to general education, education about trafficking, vocational training, therapy and residential care.   |
| The escape prevention magazine will have had 5 editions this year with a print run of between 3 and 4 thousand each edition. It is estimated that do to the 'pass around' nature of the tool that a conservative figure of 40,000 youth will have read the magazine. Each magazine should pas through between 3 to 10 hands.                   |
| Number of children directly impacted by this project since Love146 began partnership/funding? This includes, but is not limited to education, training, therapy and residential care.   |
| 40,000   |
| Number of children indirectly impacted annually before the involvement of Love146? This includes but is not limited to project that involve training.   |
| Difficult to state. The tool is a resource into existing contacts and organizations working with youth.  |
| Number of children indirectly impacted this year?   |
| As above   |
| Number of children indirectly impacted by this project since Love146 began partnership/funding?   |
| As above   |
| Number of children being supported in the reintegration process?  |
| Non applicable   |
| Please list at least one example that is evidence of significant transformation in a child's life as a result of Love146's involvement with this project. This can include, but is not limited to physical, emotional, social, and spiritual development.   |
| As a result of the Simple Style (alternative world view to consumerism) aspect of the magazine, a number of young people have decided to try and make life and future family life happen for them in Moldova by not emigrating to the west, this in turn strengthens family and lessons vulnerability to trafficking as a result of migration. |

| Thriving Projects and Partnerships   |
| What are milestones/accomplishments that this project was able to achieve this year with the involvement of Love146?  |
| The magazine has been applauded by NGO's and Government organizations not only for its prevention content but also as a valuable education and cultural development tool. The Education Authority have taken the magazine for its summer camps for at risk youth and plan to give the magazine its seal of approval enabling us to enter any school in the country. The tool has also been adopted by many teachers for lesson content on issues that have not know how address, which has prompted a desire for a teachers lesson outline magazine and also a similar tool for parents and impacting communities. Excellent progress for less than a year in operation. |
| With the involvement of Love146, how has this project improved its child protection efforts this year?  |
| The aim of the magazine was to respond to what anti trafficking NGO La Strada called the 'least aware and most at risk' age group.Through clear and relevant communication concerning trafficking of youth and addressing underlying issues of domestic violence and gender inequality which contribute to their susceptibility. Empowering with information and disclosing up to date trafficking strategies.   |

| How has this project improved its advocacy efforts as a result of Love146 involvement?  |
| Escape Magazine has placed a tool in the hands of Government and non Government groups in Moldova, a central hub for east European trafficking.This has better enabled them to relevantly communicate the issues in a language and through a medium that youth can relate to. It also means that the power of story has been carried to communities far and wide effected by immigration and trafficking. The narrative in Rural communities is exceptionally limited and new stories make a viral impact upon these groups. |
| From 1-10 (10 being the strongest) how would you classify the strength of this projects leadership?   |
| 9-10   |
| How has leadership improved this year as a result of Love146 involvement?   |
| It has given indigenous groups far more than other charities, it has given more than money, it has given a strong prevention tool and a belief in their own capability to develop the tool for their own people.   |
| From 1-10 (10 being the strongest) how would you classify the efficiency of this project?   |
| 8-9 in terms of team development. 5-6 in terms of locating local funding streams. 9-10 in terms of project delivery.   |
| How has efficiency improved this year as a result of Love146 involvement?   |
| This is the first year so difficult to measure.  |
| From 1-10 (10 being the strongest) how would you classify the sustainability of this project?   |
| It is proposed at this stage that the magazine will continue from local resources or stop after 3 years, having sown into a generation of young people for a prolonged period in a specific country. Local resourcing is high on the agenda and we would anticipate some resourcing to come from the orgs now using the escape magazine over time.   |
| How has sustainability improved this year as a result of Love146 involvement?   |
| Presently the prevention program is fully dependant on Love146 funding.  |
| What has the organization done to better understand the challenges and views of children this year?   |
| After a consultation with NGO's to shape the magazine, a consultation was made with a representative group of school children to shape and influence content. Its has been a critical value that the magazine in Youth Speak and not a parent voice of anything which could be seen as a dictatorial overspill of the soviet age.  |
| How has the organization included the voices of children in development of projects and decision-making this year?  |
| Approx 40-50% of the content is youth generated articles and several of the journalists are young people.  |

| Empowered Communities   |
| How many villages/cities does this project impact?  |
| Moldova Capital City, a region in the north and south of the country. Some rural villages receive the magazine from IOM. We are limited only by numbers we can print.  |
| Number of community members involved in this project?   |
| Youth journalists and contributors over the year will be approx 25 people  |
| Number of community members trained by this project?  |
| Non have been trained, those with existing skills have been provided with a context to put those skills to work.   |
| Number of potential perpetrators are challenged and educated?   |
| Educating male youth is a key component of the magazines content. In a male dominated culture where women are often subject to control or violence, we seek to give an alternative worldview and value base.   |
| From 1-10 (10 being the strongest) how would you classify the investment/buy-in of the community into this project?   |
| 90%. The 10% would be made up of Romanian speaking schools who are more fearful of reprisal than Russian speaking ones who operate more independently. This will change with the education authority seal of approval. The remainder relates to some churches who have rejected the magazine because it does not seek to 'convert' from a faith perspective. |
| How has investment/buy-in improved this year as a result of Love146 involvement?  |
| Buy in has been a constant improvement   |
| Please list at least one example that is evidence that this project benefits the community beyond direct involvement.   |
| The tool has been developed to be Stand Alone. This means it has to make an impact and serve an individual without any contact with a support group or other educational context. It is also viral in nature from being passed hand to hand. Whilst limited printing has meant an over emphasis on city distribution many will find                          | their way to rural families at weekends and on holidays like Easter when the city empties. We approached a random group of 20 people in the city doing public art, 2 of these had received the magazine. In a vast city with limited printing, we viewed this as excellent positive.

Please list at least one example that is evidence of significant transformation in a community served by this project as a result of Love146's involvement.

An external research body has begun to monitor a school in receipt of the magazine and one which is not, noting a marked increase in awareness of exploitation issues in just a few months in the school population over the one not in receipt of the magazine. Over a 3 year period we hope this will provide strong evidence of the prevention capacity of this program. At this time it is too early to reflect this research.
